

SCIENCE FAIR UPDATE

Thursday, March 22nd is quickly approaching. Children should bring their projects into school that morning and go directly to the gym. Judging will take place in the afternoon and awards will be given out that evening at Open House. This gives us all an opportunity to marvel and enjoy our young scientists' work that evening.

To help us get ready for this exciting event, would you please let your child's teacher know how much room your project/experiment requires and if you need electricity. If you do need electricity, please bring in your own extension cord.

Remember, this Science Fair is for fun. Hopefully, our great I.C. scientists of the future are realizing that science is exciting and wonderful.

We have super judges who are very excited about their assignment. Judges will not only be looking at each project, but every child will have the opportunity to talk to the judge about their project. Children should have age appropriate knowledge. They should be able to tell what they know about their experiment/project.

Thank you! See you on March 22nd.

Please return this form by Wednesday, March 14th.
